

Red Book

The Philosopher

Orod Bozorg

Translated By Yeva Sargsyan

The Legacy of the Great Philosopher Orod for the Future

“The Red Book”

Edition (2022)

Translated By Yeva Sargsyan

The Fortieth Year of the Beginning of Orodism Philosophy

(1982/7/27)

The Global Foundation of the Great Philosopher Orod presents the complete version of The Red Book

Table of Contents

Orodism Philosophy 6

About the Island of Orodism and the Reason for Its Creation 9

About Orod 11

Chapter 1 - Existence 13

About Time 16

Chapter 2 - Humanity and Kindness 19

Chapter 3 - Freedom 32

About Democracy 38

About Parties 41

About Media 45

About Elections 48

Chapter 4 - Wisdom and Philosophy 51

About Philosophy and Philosophers 58

About the Words of the Great 62

Chapter 5 - Love 66

About Friendship 70

Chapter 6 - Psyche and Self 73

About Hope 78

About Patience and Forbearance 80

About Pride and Humility 81

About Memory and Remembrance 84

About Loneliness 86

About Fear 87

About Health 90

Chapter 7 - The Wicked 92

About Enemies 98

About Tyrants 101

About Foolish People 103

Chapter 8 - Joy and Sorrow 106

About Grief 111

About Suffering 116

Chapter 9 - Ideals 118

About Desire 125

About Victory and Defeat 128

About the Path of Progress 129

Chapter 10 - Family 132

About Spouse 139

About Relatives 142

About Politeness 143

About Bonding and Separation 144

About Children's Names 146

Chapter 11 - Culture 148

About Teachers 151

About Art and Artists 153

About Film and Cinema 154

About the Culture of Veneration 156

About Necrolatry (Worship of the Dead) 157

About Homeland 159

Chapter 12 - The Worthy 161

About Forgiveness and Generosity 166

About Fame 168

About Work and Entrepreneurship 169

Chapter 13 - Structure and Norm 173

About Order 175

About Critique and Judgment 176

About Politicians 179

Chapter 14 - Nature 187

About the Earth 191

About the Value of Water 193

Chapter 15 - Life 195

About Ancestors 209

About Luck and Destiny 210

About Happiness 211

Orodism Philosophy

“Orodism Philosophy is the answer to a 40-year-old question.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The foundation of Orodism Philosophy is laid out point by point in the chapters of The Red Book.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The structure of Orodism Philosophy rests on three pillars: «Love for Existence», «Love for Humanity», and «Love for Freedom».”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orodism Philosophy is a conciliatory and kind-hearted thought.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orodism Philosophy believes that humans and their freedoms deserve respect.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Rationality and love are intertwined in Orodism Philosophy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Life in Orodism Philosophy is a romantic dance between human existence and the universe.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orodism Philosophy is the reviver of humanity, a humanity that has been forgotten for centuries.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Nations have strayed far from their pure existence and nature; Orodism Philosophy strives to be the nurturing wing to cross these collapsed bridges.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orodism Philosophy sees the essence of civilization and its extension in the simplicity of human relations and their increasing solidarity based on a feeling of affection.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orodism Philosophy is not a poetic fantasy! Without a doubt, Orodism is a cry of pain, for coming to one's senses and thinking, for saving the generation and escaping extinction.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The tree of Orodism Philosophy has its roots in The Red Book. Without a doubt, its growth and flourishing are inevitable, and standing against it will be like whipping a storm.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The chapters of The Red Book are the roots of the tree of Orodism Philosophy. By understanding their parts and totality, one can grasp the essence and core of this philosophy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About the Island of Orodism and the Reason for Its Creation

“The ancient civilizations of the world are a combination of historical opposites in various fields. They have no oxygen for their new generations to breathe, while young civilizations are full of public desire and will to create something new and lasting.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“To say that a land has a civilization of several thousand years, therefore it must inherently be superior to other societies, is undoubtedly a mistake.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“We must migrate to the Island of Orodism. Now, where is the Island of Orodism? It is a place to escape from shackles and millennia of slavery.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Why do we speak of migrating to the Island of Orodism? The goal is to create a new civilization from people in whom love for existence, humanity, and freedom surges.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The Island of Orodism is the beginning of humanity's conscious friendship with the Earth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The Island of Orodism is the land of all the kind people of the world, of every race, language, and nation. The unkind have no place there.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“On the Island of Orodism, humans are freed from complexities and come closer to their pure nature.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“On the Island of Orodism, freedom is like a vast plain, and prosperity and joy are abundant in every alley and street.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The structure and administration of the Island of Orodism are possible based on its three beliefs and also the teachings of Orod in The Red Book.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Orod

“Orod has always sought to sow the seeds of affection and friendship for the better coexistence of humans with existence and with each other.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The words of Orod, his perceptions and concerns, are for the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orod believes that humans are constantly perfecting themselves throughout their lives.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I am happy that I was never indebted or subservient to any system or government.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orod was born on a snowy midnight in the month of Dey in the city of Mashhad.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 1 - Existence

“Existence is all that exists, and humans are a very small soft part of it, yet they are mingled within it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Our field of vision of the cosmos and the world we live in, with all its vastness, can be like a small grain of sand from a much, much larger world.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A correct understanding of the infinite expanse of the cosmos will calm and soften even harsh people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The cosmos is the constant sound of transformation.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The cosmic system, although perceived as monotonous, is dynamic and progressive.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The cosmos does not need us; the world, with us or without us, is changing.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us be companions with the nature of the cosmos, which is change.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The ultimate desire of all beings in existence is to float in the frequencies and waves of the cosmos.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Stagnation does not exist; all that exists is effervescence and flow.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Flexibility and adaptation to the cosmos will calm us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Love for the cosmos is a sign of human awareness of one's own existence in this infinite world.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“We are part of the branches of the cosmos; we have come to blossom and gift a more beautiful branch to the world.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Love for the cosmos is for us like the relationship between a flower and the garden.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The cosmos cannot be considered an absolute realm of joy or sorrow; each moment can be different.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Truly, if humans knew how small, alone, and vulnerable they are in this vast blue cosmos, they would not leave each other alone for a single moment.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us teach love for the cosmos to our children, love for the world in which we are meant to blossom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us look at the starry sky at night and ask ourselves: where do we stand in this endless vista?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Time

“Time is the most important possession.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“No teacher is stricter and more truthful than time.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humans are children of their history and time.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One should take pride in progressiveness, not in the distant past.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Every moment can be a new beginning in our lives, so there is never an end before us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Praise the time of renewal and growth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Mistakes must be embraced, for the sap of the world is in growth and abundance.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Time is scarce; do not spend it responding to the ugly lies of the corrupt.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The cosmos charges towards the future; flee from those who are constantly stuck in the past.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I advance towards the world of knowledge; knowledge will gradually reign over everything.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The limitation of time in life carries a message. This message tells us: life is a limited opportunity for love and humanity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 2 - Humanity and Kindness

“Let us remember that we are human, and humanity is the most important thing expected of us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Behind human behaviors lies a garden of affection and awareness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worthy praise humanity and freedom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humanity is praiseworthy; never be hurt by the kind nature within you because of others' wrongdoings.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humanity must be understood, and one must truly be human.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humanity and timely help are the affections and love of the eminent.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Nobility belongs only to those who have humanity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The best gift parents can give their child is teaching manners and humanity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Awareness and intellect are seen in the measure of our humanity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The path to an honorable life is to respect the dignity of others and humanity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Illiterate or literate, whatever you are... be human.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Be and remain human... for the world is a host and joyful of your existence.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us pride ourselves on our humanity, freedom, and manners, not on our language and race.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fear and flee from people who have forgotten the humanity within themselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“No ideal should darken the humanity within us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Nobility without humanity is worthless.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Where there is humanity, exploiting others disappears.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humanity is not our alms to others; humanity indicates the value of our inner gem.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humanity must be cherished; otherwise, brutality, violence, and superstition take root.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Someone without humanity easily ruins the lives of others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Someone who has understood humanity does not easily wish for the death and destruction of this or that person.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Instead of trying to build humans, let's learn how to treat others kindly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“What difference is there between a desert and a land where humanity has died?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kindness and humanity always surge in the hearts of good-natured people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I swear by love that no thought has power without it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The most lasting melody is the tune of kindness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kindness is the most precious human trait.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Generosity and beauty lie in kindness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kind people create joy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Before it's too late, let us caress our loved ones with affectionate words.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Selflessness is the first step of kindness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A worthy person responds to the kindness of others with kindness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kind people remember us, even when we have forgotten ourselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The song of kindness is more lasting than any stone inscription.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kindness is the only norm for sustainable coexistence between countries.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who love call each other by the most beautiful words and become each other's support in difficult days.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kind people see thousands of galaxies of love within us, stars we may never have believed in.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kind people always see the good and how quickly they forgive the bad.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kind people cannot be forgotten.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humans are only connected to each other through love.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One must be inspired by kindnesses and selflessnesses so that everyone becomes a support for each other.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Truly, the kind are the rulers of the cosmos.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Without any expectation, always be kind.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The purest desires are in the hearts of the kind.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People like tulips have a short life in existence and a lasting image in our thoughts.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us flow our love like children.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us compete to win the hearts of people, for this is the most beautiful gain in life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“To love in life, don't look for the best time, be yourself and let your soul flow.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Companions and like-minded people are the love and beauty of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The world is kind, remember the rainfall, which is the pulse of love and life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Be kind, so you are never alone.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kindness is not from simplicity and ignorance; kind people believe in one of the most important norms of the cosmos.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Only from the spring of goodness and kindness does tranquility flow within us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In a healthy society, people constantly make sacrifices for each other.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fill the cup of life only with love and friendship.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Thought is a flier; let us land it where kindness and joy reside.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A noble human respects not only atoms but also plants, animals, and even objects.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The unkind will not have a kind guardian.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Avoid the unkind to be safe from the fire of their anger and malice.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“It is a pity that while we are alive, we do not appreciate each other.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Are we kind?! When in the midst of meeting this or that person, or to be free from suffering and hardship, we cut off a head?!”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One cannot be kind to those whose hands are stained with the blood of others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A worthy person does not practice unkindness because of the badness of others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Public benevolence and selflessness are signs of a society's cultural evolution.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who have loved have become eternal... and how beautiful is the season of the growth of love and friendship...”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Our historical responsibility is to recognize kindness and humanity and strive for their global synergy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I only raise the flag of humanity and freedom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 3 - Freedom

“A life without freedom is shameful.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Awareness is the only path to freedom.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The greatest wealth of a land is freedom.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The joy of a land cannot be created without having freedom.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Freedom, without selflessness, is inefficient and weak.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Sacrifice for freedom is the trait of the great and the eternal.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Freedom fighters are the most worthy myths of any land.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The tree of freedom cannot take root without public belief and accompaniment.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Freedom is not a gift or a favor; freedom is a responsibility.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Freedom must be dissected, and public opinion should be sought on each part of it.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Freedom is a complex and macro process whose emergence requires the accompaniment of all the people of a land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“True and freedom-seeking youth are artistic superstructures.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“From Orod's perspective, freedom gains wings with the increasing dynamism of public culture.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Without freedom, culture will have its wings burned.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Respecting freedom of expression is a progressive culture for dynamism and growth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Freedom of expression eventually eliminates corruption and leads to the growth of a land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The expansion of public freedoms paves the way for growth in the fields of culture and art, economy and industry, etc.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“All people of a land must be leaders of freedom and freedom-seeking.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Weak and cowardly people beg for freedom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not devalue and render freedom ineffective with prefixes and suffixes.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Freedom is not only for us. Whoever seeks freedom a little does not spread a prison for other thoughts.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Freedom is not a bribe to the people, for it is their right and possession.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Freedom has not been bestowed upon any land. To have freedom, one must deserve it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“History has shown that if we do not demand freedom, no one will give it to us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A land where protest and demonstrations are not recognized as the right of the people is no different from a cemetery.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Slavery has never ended. Many humans are still caught in the chains of slavery without knowing it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who call freedom sexual promiscuity are truly sick.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Labeling and insulting are tools of the base and freedom-fighters.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Death is not the end for a caged bird either.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The bloody feathers of freedom fighters are the sight and sound of freedom for the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“May the lap of every land be far from tyrants and freedom-fighters.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Be vigilant; giving freedom to freedom-fighters has terrible consequences.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The royal bird will perch on the shoulders of all the people of a country when they have achieved real democracy and popular rule.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Democracy

“Democracy is a wise and life-creating matter.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Democracy is the end of enslaving the masses.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Democracy gives people the power not to become captives and prisoners of the ambitious.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Democracy is meaningless without the existence of parties and free media.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Only democracy will increase the social knowledge of the masses.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Democracy increases the value of the individual and their social perspective.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Democracy was able to save the world from the dark era of kings and ambitious slave-owners.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Democracy caused the crown of rulership to be placed on the head of all people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Democracy ties the hands of totalitarian minority groups and dictators and entrusts power to the real representatives of the people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Aware people do not make themselves captives of closed systems; they consider democracy and freedom their right.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“We must know that democracy always seeks superior thought for managing affairs.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The bed of public opinion is like the sea; politicians should know that no structure will be stable on this sea unless it aligns itself with its consequences over time...”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The strength and impetus of democracy come from the existence of various political and social parties and groups.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Parties

“Parties and groups are the enhanced power of humans.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Free parties are the pillars of flourishing and growth for countries.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Truly, the tongue of people whose land has no party is cut.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“No ruling system will remain stable without parties and political groups.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Everyone must support and accompany popular groups and parties.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who do not join any group have essentially not seen the basic teachings of social life in a healthy society.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“No volcano, lightning, or thunder has the force of a flood of like-minded humans.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us be the vanguard of joining like-minded groups... and how beautiful it is to become like a fierce whirlwind and reach the skies and sing the song of harmony and friendship...”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Aware and progressive people create good political parties and groups so that everyone, by joining them, can improve their living conditions.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humans, when alone, seem asleep; their awakening can only be seen when they stand in a united group.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For the survival of a party or group, one must be self-sacrificing and selfless.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Gossipers and slanderers are the biggest pests for the survival of any popular group and organization.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Group work, without the accompaniment of passionate and hardworking youth, has no end.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Popular groups, without honoring all their members, lack the strength to endure.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A purposeful group is less prone to confusion and disintegration.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Group activities, the larger and more vibrant they are, increase the joy of life and hope more.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Worthy parties are not seeking political totalitarianism.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Parties should know that with deviation and false programs, they will fade away very quickly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If your political party does not act on its programs, leave it immediately.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In a free land, no court can prevent the activity of a popular party or group.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Parties that, for any reason, have no media are mute and essentially non-existent.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Media

“Modern human desires would never have taken shape without progressive media.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In a land where popular media are free, filth and lawlessness become less and less every day.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Truly free media are the eternal sun for criminals because they are the voice of reality.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Intelligent atoms never tie their thoughts to a specific media outlet.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Media should be the voice of the people, not tell them what they should say to please us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People who are preoccupied with the daily and scattered news of the media lack long-term vision.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Free-spirited journalists are the standard-bearers of purity and prosperity of a land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Journalists must have a superior and aware perspective so that small events do not distract them from important matters.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Until people become aware of their possessions and rights, they will not take a step to protect them.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Progressive media help people make aware choices in every social event, especially elections.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Elections

“Free elections are the only solution for the continued survival of a political dynasty.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Proper and constructive elections are the first medicine for a land's pains.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who belittle elections are enemies of its root.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Free elections are not the enemy of any of the people's beliefs.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Elections are not a place for the shiny games of bureaucrats.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Holding elections must be completely transparent, clear, and verifiable.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Holding impartial and correct elections is the most important test that public opinion gives to governments.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People who consider good elections worthless and those who knowingly become actors in incorrect elections have both equally turned their backs on their land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In a country where there are no popular political parties and groups, elections each time turn into farce.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Parties should introduce candidates into the election cycle who will not cause them embarrassment and shame in the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“During elections, people should seek, more than anything, the proposed programs of political parties.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“During elections, parties mortgage their credibility in public opinion to guarantee the fulfillment of their candidates' promises.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The philosophy of holding elections is to give people the power to change the status quo.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 4 - Wisdom and Philosophy

“Wisdom is the result of our knowledge, experience, and testing.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The drizzle of rain awakens the calm soil and the seed; wisdom also does not appear suddenly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The liberation and freedom of humans are the result of wisdom and knowledge.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I believe that wisdom will make humans partners.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Thoughtful people do not become playthings of sudden and everyday events.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Whoever has seen the splendor of wisdom and philosophy never adopted arrogance.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A person will only cease to be trapped in daily events when they are flying in a thought beyond them.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Wisdom is not only summarized in our knowledge but is also revealed in our actions.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“As long as there is no responsive thought, deviation will continue.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Superior thought does not lose its strength and power in days of ability and turmoil, as well as comfort and peace.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The way to fight incorrect thought is to engage with correct thought.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Nature is a great teacher; the wise learn lessons from it.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Conscious adaptation to the society around us and striving to improve today's position are characteristics of wise people.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Even the silence of the wise is instructive.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The wise pay attention only to reason and experience, not to the temptations of the heart and conjecture.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Scholars and philosophers are the foundations and pillars of the splendor and prosperity of any land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Dialogue with philosophers and the wise is a rare reward.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The pleasant words of the wise calm hearts.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The wise calls everyone to freedom and enlightenment.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The gaze of the wise reaches the roots, and that of others reaches the branches.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The wise have a calm soul and a heart full of love.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The wise generously express their experiences and teachings for others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Our inner selves are not hidden from the sharp gaze of the wise.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The wise does not overindulge in joking.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Thought can be imprisoned, but it is not destroyable.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A wise person does not become a tyrant; it is the lowly and base human who becomes a demon of action.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Whoever listens to the words of the wise is far from humiliation and baseness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I have no hope for the future of knowledge that looks to the mouth of the ignorant.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Whoever considers rationality and wisdom light and worthless is undoubtedly stepping on the path of slavery.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The foolishness and indifference of the masses cause the wise to shed many tears.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Enmity and adversity give a wise person the motivation to live.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The wise do not become tools of the base.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the worst conditions, the wise remains silent but does not lie.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Where the wise are humiliated, rebellions and chaotic uprisings ultimately take the field.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One should weep for a land whose wise are housebound.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The first step of exploiters of countries is the destruction of their philosophers and the wise.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Even the severed head of the wise speaks in a thousand ways.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One should weep for a land where its philosophers and thinkers always mirror and repeat the words of greedy rulers.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Philosophy and Philosophers

“Philosophy is the veneration of wisdom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The view and ideal of philosophy is to live wisely.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Philosophy is obtaining transcendence and awareness through self-cultivation and continuous thinking.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The only true nest of philosophy is truth and honesty.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Philosophy puts aside the sword and war and calls everyone to work and effort.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Philosophy is a global perspective and cannot be judged solely within the cup of governments.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Philosophy relies on knowledge and experience more than anything.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The lap of philosophy and wisdom is far from magic and lies.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Philosophers find the important threads of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A philosopher is holistic; they pay attention to all aspects of a subject.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The philosopher seeks the best ideas for the well-being of humans and their conscious coexistence with nature.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The pains, challenges, and anxieties of humanity cause the philosopher to research, sow, and think for years of their life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A philosopher cannot justify or defend a matter in which there is no rationality and wisdom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In lands where philosophy is allowed to express views and perspectives, crime is low and prisons are empty.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Being strict with philosophy is clearly a betrayal of the future.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Most common people never want to see or even hear the truth.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Evil-minded people fear even the silence of philosophy.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Philosophy can be easily removed, but no power can destroy its thought.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Before philosophy is the birth of superstitions.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The philosopher lets flow a heartening word and passes.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About the Words of the Great

“A kind and encouraging word can make a star from a small lantern.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Thousands of pure thoughts and points lie behind the advice of the great.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The words of the great are the master key to the closed doors of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The words of the wise polish our thought and shorten the long path to happiness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Advice for the youth should be short, fresh, and story-like.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Excessive advice and counsel are as annoying as insult.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Incorrect advice and counsel cause permanent hatred of others towards us.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The advice of the elderly are their last melodies for the better living of the future.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us find wise elders and learn from their experiences.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A youth who takes the heartfelt words of wise elders for nothing is caught in the spell of ignorance and will suffer.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In times of trouble, let us seek the path of salvation from the wise and the elderly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I have seen so many people who, instead of listening to the voice of reason and wisdom, have taken the side of charlatans and dream-sellers.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Pure words and love are not effective on an evil nature.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who does not accept advice and counsel will quickly get into trouble.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Words and terms have power and force and have caused uprisings.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Composing one correct verse about life requires a seventy-year journey.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Every verse of wise elders is full of love and hope for the honor of the future.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 5 - Love

“Truly, self-sacrifice is invaluable.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Love is unique; within a person in love, a great resurrection and transformation is taking place.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Love is that magnetic attraction within us that unconsciously pulls a person towards the most lovable thing.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Love, like a storm, cleans the dust-covered land of existence and becomes the motivation for increasing growth and fertility.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us think, what is it that constantly encourages us about life and we ultimately want to reach it?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Love brings forgiveness, forgiving everything, and more importantly, time.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Love contains within itself praise and veneration.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Falling in love evolves the structure of our psyche so much that it does not let us break in the face of hardships.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Take self-sacrifice and love from life, and we are alone and wandering.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Love and infatuation awaken and flow the love and kindness hidden within us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Many call their illusion and fantasy love, whereas love is a wonderful path of growth towards fruit.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In love! There is honor and freedom, there is life and purity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The name of love is not worthy of any dishonorable work.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A person in true love does not seek to gain profit; they give for liberation and freedom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Love should not force a person into seclusion; this infatuation must have the power to launch a human towards true ideals.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Never consider love for a partner to be permanent.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“...They ask Orod: What is the most valuable thing we have? I say: Time.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“There is no hope for continuing friendship with those who do not respect our interests and love.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Friendship

“He who is a companion and has belief, every breath has an endless value.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The only way for the survival of any friendly attraction is kindness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us want people as they are, not as we want them to be.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One friend, just one friend who defends your name and memory, is better than a hundred thousand acquaintances lost in the dust...”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For our friendships to remain stable, it is better if there is always a distance and interval between us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who does not know what self-respect is, is not worthy of friendship.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Silence in the face of slander from friends is a kind of enmity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Excessive friendship is as terrifying as enmity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Self-absorbed and complaining people are not good friends for us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Having many friends for a young person is not a sign of scarcity in life; rather, it indicates the extensive destruction of time.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not seek yourself within your friend and spouse; your copy is nowhere.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Always in the worst conditions, our wounds are our best friends.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Good friends are the balm for our wounded wings and injured psyche.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 6 - Psyche and Self

“Know yourself and honor it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“To nurture your psyche, first become one with yourself.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not belittle ourselves; let us truly know our own value.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A thought and idea that cannot promise a beautiful future is weak and sick.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Inner dialogue for well-being is a strength that many lack.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Luminous dreams tell us how far we are from our own selves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The psyche of the worthy tends towards creation and bringing into being.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The psyche of the dead and the living rotates in one cycle.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The land of our psyche is not a field for spite and pointless enmities.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who considers himself a criminal is the jailer of his own existence.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I see endless mountains and valleys within people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who does not love himself easily trespasses on the place and privacy of others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Sometimes the only way to treat troubled psyches is to go towards new events.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not imprison our psyche by hearing and reading about incorrect events and horrifying accidents.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not darken our hearts with the badness of others; let our gaze always be on truth and kindness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Helping others is a commendable and good deed, but forgetting oneself is from ignorance and frivolity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Loving and praising are the cure for many human pains.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Inner crystal is the force to be launched towards new ideas.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A person slowly learns that they should not involve all their life and thought in every task.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“When we try to forcibly have everything in our own way, our hands are emptier than ever before.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If we are not capable of organizing our own forces, others will shape our destiny.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Will is only beautiful when it is in the direction of wisdom and rationality.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“It is lovely and inspiring to see a hardworking laborer, a compassionate gardener, or a diligent mechanic... who perform their work lovingly and professionally.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“There is no hope for the future of people who constantly say I can't or It's not possible.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“We perform the greatest deviations when we think we have nothing left to lose.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Apologizing after an unworthy act is very beautiful and shows maturity of the psyche.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“When we deny the forces within ourselves, worry comes to visit us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Unfortunately, some pains never go away. Let us learn how to live with them... Let us be resilient.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Hope

“Hope is like blood in the human psyche; without it, one does not take a step forward, and with it, one transforms the world.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you believe in flight, you will gain wings.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Another name for migration is hope.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Hope and passion for life do not stand at the gate of the city of despised and hated people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For the injured, the doors of their desires become smaller and smaller, except with hope, which transforms our lives.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Friendship and love create hope, and hope is the need of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A strong person, even in the midst of battle, gifts hope and joy to others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the heart of the darkness of defeat, the light of hope flickered.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A depressed and hopeless person has forgotten the value of their own strength and power; they must be helped.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Always be hopeful for a better and more honorable life, never deny your strength, love yourself.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Patience and Forbearance

“With patience, everything will be in your hands.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Patience is the best conduct in difficult and unstable days.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Patience is not within everyone's ability; those who are patient rule.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Pride and Humility

“Seas are symbols of humility; within their depths, they have mountains taller than land, but they never boast about it to us.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I have seen so many boastful people who claimed to be humble.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Proper and correct humility makes us desirable and likable.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humility before tyrants is incorrect.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who only think of themselves are truly criminals.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humility and unjustified pride are equally disgusting.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you are fed up with someone's selfishness, do not humiliate them; the best way is to leave them alone for a few days.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A selfish person's happy period is short.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The selfish person is alone because they lack the ability to praise and love.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“As long as you speak of your superiority, you are not seen.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Self-conceit, its origin is within, and it makes a person infatuated with themselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you have lost your pride, turn to the mountains, and if you are tired of battle, turn to the sea.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Memory and Remembrance

“I have seen few people who have spoken about the astonishing power of Memory and Remembrance.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Sweet memories and remembrances are invisible chains of affection between people that keep them together.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you want your name to always be mentioned well, leave a sweet and pleasant memory of yourself behind.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humans constantly measure everything new with past memories.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If we knew what great wave of memories and consequently judgments our behavior today creates in the minds of others, we would never display an incorrect action.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A land that gifts sweet and pleasant memories to its people does not suffer from the plague of brain drain.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“You can never forget the bad memories of the past; learn how to cope with them.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us make a path and a way from bitter memories towards happiness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If we do not create a sweet memory for ourselves, remembering the bitter memories of the past will tear our psyche apart in loneliness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Loneliness

“Loneliness is a poisoner of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A wounded psyche, in loneliness, becomes infected and dangerous; one must join active and joyful social groups.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Wretched are the people who have no heroes.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“You double the weight of the memory of sorrows with loneliness; go among people and join in their joy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Loneliness can be terrifying; do not wish loneliness even for your enemy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Fear

“He who is the neighbor of death fears nothing.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The only way to destroy fear is to be aware of its futility.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Wise parents do not frighten their children with darkness and superstitions.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The dream of an honorable life is lost in the indifference of cowardly people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fearless and brave people do not experience life in shackles and cages.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Universal fear is a tool in the hands of the devil.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The bright horizon is not seen from the dark window of fear.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who has become powerful through wisdom, fear is just a game for him.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Much of the hardship we endure is because of embarrassment and fear of what others think about us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fear of separation brings separation.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“More than the enemy, one should fear cowardly and undisciplined soldiers.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The life of cowardly people is the wine of the feast of vultures.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Bloodthirsty people are the most fearful of all.”

_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Health

“Health is the reward of good living.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Health is the prerequisite for every glorious ideal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Striving for public health is one of the most important tasks of bureaucrats.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Getting caught up in daily routine is the silent plague of the field of health and treatment.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kind and compassionate nurses are the sweet melody of life again.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A doctor is a symbol of politeness and hope, and what nobility is higher than this...”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Intelligent people find health in a wise and aware life and behavior.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Health is provided with more human knowledge and understanding of the actions of the cosmos.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kind nurses and doctors must be praised.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Public hygiene is born of awareness, accompaniment, and social order.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 7 - The Wicked

“The wicked is the first and last corpse of his own actions.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The most disgraceful people are deceivers.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“With deception, one might gain something, but this gain will cause the ruin of a person.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who converses with insolent people will sooner or later be caught in their sin.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who makes deception his profession, gossips, and betrays the trust of others. Truly, he will die in isolation and hardship.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who makes others a tool for his leap will soon be alone.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“With a base gaze, even the most loving works can be considered disgrace.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The most wicked people, for their own growth, attack the positions of others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The ill-natured has a short life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Render the ill-wishers ineffective with distance and silence.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“To avoid falling into lowliness, become a helper of people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Many people are prisoners of their own evil words.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Many wars are a reflection of ignorance.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In snow, whiteness is evident; do you submit to it? Many approach us with a white appearance who, in their depths, bring nothingness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Belligerents will be killed by their own must thoughts.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“How base and vile are those whose goal is to strike at the dignity and honor of others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Improper conduct and behavior cannot be hidden even with great wealth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who speaks ill buys humiliation into his soul.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Seeking revenge from the family of a wicked person only shows fear, not the power of noble humans.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“An ungrateful person, even if a scientist, is considered base.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Ingratitude and insulting, even towards enemies, is not worthy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who reveals the secrets of others' lives to this and that person shows that he himself is not worth a barley grain.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not expect someone who is subservient to correctly recognize the truth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A criminal, whether in prison or free, their life is crumbling.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Never allow someone who has knowingly and intentionally taken your honor to come near you.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Inappropriate and incorrect joking brings regret.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“History has shown that every evil will one day be caught in its own evil.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who seeks revenge has a very short life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The great are those who do not cut the roots of their own land, they build a shelter for their children.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The most selfish humans are those who have closed their eyes to the fate of their own people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“By belittling any language and race, we make ourselves smaller.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Gossiping and slandering lead to scandal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Tyrants get lost in the trap of their own existence.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Wicked employees cause more harm to the country than thieves and enemies.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Enemies

“Even the smallest human has many enemies.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Enemy! Enemy! Never get close to the wound of his tongue.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Enmity does not give this time to recognize one's own abilities.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“When you have become a sea, do not fight with others by drawing claws and fangs; you will not be wounded.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If your enemy comes close with a sweet face, be silent for them and leave them alone.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If your life is in danger, instead of ending, try to get everyone out of their predicament.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“We must always be prepared to respond to the onslaught of enemies of our land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who constantly mention their enemy unknowingly make him bigger and bigger.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The best shield against enemies is wisdom and thought.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The enemy searches for the tool to destroy a person within their own home.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not consider your enemies lowly; they must be known more than they know themselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Never consider your rival small, because he is the motivation for progress and dynamism.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The desire of tyrants is permanence, hence they seek to stupefy the masses.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Tyrants

“The tear of one oppressed buries a hundred thousand bullets.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the darkest nights of oppression, the brightest stars of liberation are born.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“What sign of the evil-minded remains? None.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Tyrants very quickly become slaves to wicked people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A curse upon the heart that does not hear the sigh of the oppressed and does not help people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Anger and force are among the tools of falsehood for staying in power.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“So many tyrants who later fell into abjection.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Wicked people make everyone a tool to achieve their desires.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The silence of the battle egg has screams in its chest.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Tyrants draw a red line on the joys of the people because a sad society has no motivation for prosperity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Foolish People

“The result of dialogue with a fool is two things: first, losing a part of life, and second, getting caught in futile and worthless conjecture.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the life of a fool, the end of one knot is a thousand unsolvable knots.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The gift of patience in the face of a fool is double hardship.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“At the end of the dead-end alleys of life, you will meet fools again and again.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“So many foolish people cannot tolerate the kindness of the worthy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A small person always wants more than their right; there is no end to their greed.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The thought of a small person is afraid of dealing with the root; they only like to get involved with twigs, leaves, and margins.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Small people, their secrets are also small; their gaze fills up and overflows so quickly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Small people, even in the best of times, have many excuses for not doing their responsibilities.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I wish small people could keep great secrets.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Not every foolishness is courage and fearlessness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The celebrations of small people are as transient as they are.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 8 - Joy and Sorrow

“Life is a prelude to living joyfully.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Where is joy? A place where everyone is valuable.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If there were no joy and happiness, the world would not be worth living in.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us keep the lamp of celebration and happiness always lit.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us gift joy to each other; joy is the result of love and friendship.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Joyful people are not lying in wait for celebration and happiness; they themselves are joy creators.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who always has a smile on his lips is a giver of joy and desire for life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Celebrations are sweet, for the cosmos is a great feast for adorning oneself and the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Great celebrations become motivations for increasing fertility and dynamism.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Play and joy of children are for growth and dynamism; play is not only for children, let us also continue joy and group games.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Celebration and feast increase friendship and love among people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“How beautiful are those who always have a smile on their lips.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Laughter has secrets in its chest.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Genuine laughter is beautiful and is the melody of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fill my heart with joys, so I may drown in your love.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Joy that is achieved by harming others is a cup of deadly poison.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Joy and hope nurture the human psyche, even if the body is weak and wounded.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us value our joy and well-being; a weak body leaves no strength for politeness and correct behavior.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who erases joy has imprisoned the human psyche.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Looking at laughing people is hope-giving and joy-creating.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A gaze and speech that is full of love and joy is a window towards thousands of unseen galaxies...”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Hear and join the pleasant melody of the cosmos in feasts and joys.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Wretched is the house that is built upon the destruction of others' joy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orod does not see joy in debauchery; joy is the pure desire of all humans.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“No defeat weakens a joyful land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Life is not a field of grief and sorrow; it is a short time for growth and flourishing.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Grief

“Grief is the black hole of abilities.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Praising grief is praising death.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A grieving land has no legacy for the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One must fear people who seek grief.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not ask others to recount the sad events of our own past.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us avoid hearing songs, stories, and events that induce grief.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One cannot have hope for the nurturing and progress of the country from grieving people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The grief of the past should not be consumed, for it turns a simple illness deadly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A grieving person does not have the ability to maintain their achievements.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“To honor the memory of the departed, let us plant a plant, distribute sweets.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Only criminals become happy seeing the tears of others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Extravagance in mourning the deceased is not wise.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Consoling others does not mean wailing and lamenting with them; consoling means giving hope and calming the afflicted.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“It is not necessary that with the death of others we also die or drag our lives into misery.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Work and also social efforts are the best calmers of troubled and grieving psyches.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who covers his youth with the ashes of grief and sorrow is nothing but sick.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Cultivating the seed of grief leads to the ruin of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He whose instrument is always tuned to lament constantly makes his own life and that of his loved ones bitter and dark.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Grieving countries have a small share of global production and a very high rate of unemployment among their people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us hold mourning ceremonies for our deceased for only one day and briefly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not leave our grieving loved ones alone; we must encourage them towards life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Excessive grief withers and depresses the body and human psyche.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Depression is a companion of sick grief-worshippers.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Can you name an advanced country that is sad? No, advanced and prosperous countries have joyful people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not torture ourselves by remembering the grievous events of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Suffering

“One should not cause suffering to others; torture and tormenting others shows baseness and worthlessness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Arise, show that sufferings are too lowly to cause your withering and collapse.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you turn your back on sufferings, they will never turn their back on you; one must fight hardships wisely.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Constantly remembering the hardships of life brings slavery.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Instead of analyzing suffering and poverty, let us show each other the path to happiness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Passing the hardships ahead will not be much harder than what we have left behind.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The most unforgettable lessons are those for which we have endured much sorrow to obtain.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Hardship and suffering must provide within us the force and energy to move towards good ideals and happiness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 9 - Ideals

“The ideal of efficient people is to find a suitable way to build ideas.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The ability of humans can be measured by their desires.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Human nature is always seeking change and idealization.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Awareness brings the ideal closer and prevents repetition.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the period of life, only the times are valuable to us when we are pursuing an ideal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If the ideal is clear to us, we will quickly find the tools to achieve it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If we know the ideal of our life, we will not be led astray by the words of this and that person.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Public interest in social ideals is not permanent, because it is always subject to change by new generations.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“When night falls and all beings sleep, the clouds of the seas rise in memory, do you also rise in memory for the eventful battle of tomorrow?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The ideal must not be forgotten, but one can always think of a better way to achieve it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Our ideal must have passion and excitement to drive a person to movement and endeavor.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Our ideal must not destroy the lives of others; an ideal is valuable if it leads to the well-being of all.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who simplifies and clarifies his ideal is less prone to confusion.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who steps on the wrong path has lost his ideal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“To reach the ideal, we must use all our forces; each time we reach a closed door, we must not blame ourselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Arise... new paths are in desire for our steps.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Instead of self-deprecation and ideal-avoidance, let us step on the path.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The prerequisite for reaching courage and fearlessness is finding a worthy ideal and desire.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“You can only deter someone from a path if you have first changed their ideal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He whose thought is a plaything of scattered daily news does not have the opportunity to think correctly about the ideal of his life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The waist of every long path will break before the ideal-seeking of the worthy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Endless effort to achieve a pure ideal makes a person's face lasting.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Powerful people are not amidst celebration and feast. They are always thinking of a greater ideal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Between the first step and the ideal, there is no interval; what we have is the measure of our current strength.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“It is not important how much we have grown; what is important is that we have not strayed from our ideals.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not hope that others will bring you to your ideal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“When stepping towards a great ideal, think only of your own ability.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“When we find our ideal, disappointments automatically move aside.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Remembering ideals prevents straying.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Few people only think of ideals, and many whose ideal is only to house-arrest that small group.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Noble and self-confident people are not after the applause of others; they believe in the glory and value of their own work.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Idealistic people, when they find out a desire is incorrect, abandon it immediately.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“When the ideal becomes clear, thousands of dead ends cannot be obstacles for us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A great ideal attracts a fearless and brave person.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“It is not important that others believe in us; what is important is that we believe in our good goal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Distance from the ideal and goal leads to confusion and disorder of our psyche.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“We use all our strength and power for a task when we see our inner desires and beliefs in it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Desire

“One can easily predict the future of the youth from their desires.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Only those who are insecure about their position fear the good desires of the youth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Small thoughts do not have the ability to reach great desires.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who has several confused desires will not reach any of them.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People who have forgotten their desires are like vulnerable patients.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“No desire will be achieved without research and effort.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Never consider the desires of the youth worthless and small.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Many of our desires we can easily achieve by showing our capability.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If we adopt bullying to achieve our desires, after a while we will see people before us whom our bullying no longer reaches.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Avoid self-important people who ridicule your desires.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Striving to achieve a humanly valuable ideal and desire shapes us, makes us shining.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Victory and Defeat

“Defeat and victory do not shake the heart of a noble person; they think of their ideal and goal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Believing in victory is much more valuable than victory itself.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One can take lessons from the victory and defeat of others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Strings of great defeats originate from very small falsehoods.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Defeat is not a dead end; it is a turn towards victory.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The base, after victory, ridicule their defeated rival.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humans have created wonders whenever they have had perseverance.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A meticulous understanding of every defeat leads to progress.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About the Path of Progress

“No height can withstand unyielding people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Progress is achieved only under the shadow of our constant readiness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us never consign our capabilities to oblivion.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Persistence and effort are the key to every closed door.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Always seek a better destiny for yourself; human ability has no end.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“As long as we speak of what we lack, we do not find a new way to improve.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The prerequisite for being brave is not a trained body; sometimes light-bodied people have also thrown the back of the mountain to the ground.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“It is never too late to start; right now, say to yourself: This time, I will finish the unfinished work.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not hope that others will always accompany you; you must take your own hand.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For dynamism and progress, the first step is taken from behind closed doors.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The larger your model and pioneer in life, the more beautiful destiny is before you.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 10 - Family

“Search for the purest loving gaze in the eyes of your father and mother.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Cherishing the love of parents is one of the greatest happinesses.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us praise our parents unreservedly and drown them in kisses.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Never worry about what your child's profession will be in the future; always teach them manners and respect for others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The best way to teach a child is to join them within instructive stories.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kindness to the child is very good, but this does not mean ignoring their falsehoods.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Mothers must make their adolescent daughters aware of the dangers ahead of them.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Noble fathers and mothers become martyrs for the pure desires of their children.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the wind's eye, the pleasant melodies of the mother float in the ear of the playful child.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For a mother, no word more beautiful than self-sacrificing can be found.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Thousands of springs of love flow on the mother's lap.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The best children are those who do not leave their parents alone during illness and incapacity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fathers and mothers who have many children lose the ability to educate them properly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Nursing the mother and father is the most beautiful and valuable time of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Many parties diminish human value, except visiting parents.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One of the most important duties of parents is to give their children the necessary awareness about sexual issues and possible abuse by others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The view that a capable man will have a child like himself is not correct.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us be a close friend and companion to our children so they do not fall into the trap of bad friends.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Mother and father give their lives to the child with humility.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Some parents have been planting the seed of hatred and revenge in the minds of their children for thousands of years!”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A curse upon parents who raise an ill-mannered, selfish, and insolent child.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The child is the fruit of our existence. Have we presented a healthy and kind fruit to the future?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Worthy fathers and mothers do not differentiate among their children.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For happiness, children need to talk with us more than anything.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not spoil our children and make them cheeky, for in adulthood they will be insolent and incapable.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Children of the land of lies will not become truthful.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A wicked child is the fire of the parents' life, and in this fire, undoubtedly fathers and mothers are also at fault.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A child who takes the blame for their own fault without us asking has taken the first steps of victory.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A daughter is the pride of the house.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A daughter is the love of the cosmos for the father and mother.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Girls must be believed; their ability is in no way less than boys.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A compassionate and kind son is the eternal breath of the father and mother.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I have said many times, parents should know that the alley and street are not the school for children.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fathers and mothers, whether they want to or not, are the myths and heroes of their children's lives.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who speaks ill of his family and relatives in front of his spouse has bought eternal humiliation.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Spouse

“The only language of worthy spouses is love and kindness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the heart of every ruin, a helper is seen; if there is no companionship, no brick is placed on another.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In married life, let us always speak well of our spouse's family.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A man whom the breath and love of a woman do not accompany always scratches himself.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us know that our spouse is not an angel; they have goodness and badness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us keep our spouse away from the unworthy, for sooner or later, the filth of their existence will destroy our life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Spouses must always fill each other with loving and worthy words.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Always maintain an interval between yourself and your spouse so you do not fall into humiliation.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Never interrogate your spouse in front of the child.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The only place of peace for spouses is their home.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Even for joke and laughter, do not do anything that causes your spouse to suspect you.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who acts alone when choosing a spouse and takes the words of the grey-bearded for nothing will wash his face with tears again and again.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“It is better to choose your spouse from your own city and land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us strive so that the married life of our acquaintances and relatives does not fall apart.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Relatives

“Let us know the value of our relatives and be their support.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For the closeness and convergence of our family, we must help each other.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Truly, relatives are those who respect our existence and understand and want us as we are.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who see their life in battle with acquaintances and relatives are sick.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Blood relation alone cannot be a factor for constant interaction among relatives.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Politeness

“Politeness is the initial sign of wisdom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A polite person always sees the gates of hearts open.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Politeness and good behavior will make the world heavenly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Never abandon your politeness, even if you are ridiculed.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The most beautiful trait of a woman is her modesty and chastity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The beautiful, with politeness and good character, become angels and fairies.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Correct understanding of each other by men and women and observing politeness and respect for each other is the only way to prevent their separation.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Bonding and Separation

“An easy marriage vow is valuable.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Making the marriage vow difficult in the name of valuing traditions is not correct.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The strongest vows are those we have accepted with our thought.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A pure bond is an eternal bond.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Marriage vows are not made stable with big celebrations and false extravagance.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you must leave, do not rush to leave.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not wait more than six months for the return of an angry spouse.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who throws his spouse out harshly will run after her with tears.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Know, always he who gives up everything to reach you will one day leave you alone.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Children's Names

“A good name is the result of research, not an answer in sleep and dream.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For choosing a child's name, always consult with your spouse and do not act arbitrarily.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Harmony and concord between the names of children is good.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us pronounce our children's names correctly and ask others to do the same.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“From the passage of time, I learned that we should not put the names of our dead on the living.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Give a name to your child so that they do not curse you until the end of their life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The child's name shows our insight and culture.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 11 - Culture

“Culture must include humanism, freedom-seeking, and love for the cosmos.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Correct culture tends towards goodness and purity, is averse to war and conflict.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the long term, no force can withstand culture and art.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The foundation and infrastructure of the expansion of any land is correct culture.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The culture of veneration is the celebration of growth and flourishing.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The wise and artists are the builders of the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Philosophers and culture-makers are always alive.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The thought and speech of myths are generative; their memory brings joy and hope.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Pleasant music is the melody and song of the cosmos.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Reforming incorrect culture is very important for a land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The excessive appetite of the masses for hearing sorrowful melodies and watching sad and dark films is a great warning.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A dark perspective and thought make the field of covering up larger every day.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The biggest factory for destroying capabilities is an incorrect educational system.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“An inefficient educational system is truly a swamp of talents.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us set aside mistaken culture fearlessly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The internet reminded humans of the value of time.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The internet is a tool for awareness; there is no escape from light and illumination.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Teachers

“The words of kind teachers are lasting in the thought and soul of students.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Encouragement is the most important tool of noble teachers.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One teacher can transform a country with their behavior and speech.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The best teacher and encourager of a student is themselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Teaching is self-sacrifice; such a position will never fall into the hands of the wicked.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Kiss the hand of your teacher, for they are both a father and a nurturer of wisdom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Students who, without innovation, always repeat the words of their master, never bring splendor.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Knowing the value of a master is not an art but a duty and responsibility.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Art and Artists

“Art is the result of wisdom being creative in the world of emotion.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Artists are the eternal assets of any land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The psyche of art must be taught with humanity and nobility.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Noble works of art are a valuable part of a human society.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Artistic works that have become eternal contain a part of the artist's psyche within themselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Art that gets caught in daily routine does not last.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Film and Cinema

“Cinema can bring the people of the world closer and make them similar.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Today, aware filmmakers are the teachers of human societies.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Constructive and loving cinema must always be supported.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A true filmmaker is a bright and enlightening window towards life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Black and hopeless cinema takes the spirit and psyche of a society to the slaughterhouse.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Some filmmakers, in the name of realism, by probing the rarest filth of a society, pour the poison of a thousand impure swamps on the eyes.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About the Culture of Veneration

“Veneration doubles human strength.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Praising and encouraging is an art, an art with which even the most false people can be made content.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Venerating good-natured people leads to the prosperity of a land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If we call others by the most beautiful names, it does not decrease our value.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you want to become great, remember the good deeds of others often.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Necrolatry (Worship of the Dead)

“Necrolatry is the face of people who do not believe in the power and gem within themselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Advanced or developing countries have living myths, and backward countries have dead myths wrapped in legends.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“How horrible and hateful it is that in some lands, fighting over deceased famous figures is much more than knowing and venerating living eminent figures.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not drive our living celebrities to the corner in the name of the greats of our history.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“There have been many great people, and after this, a thousand times greater than them will come.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The world is rapidly progressing and growing.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Excessive praise of the history of past ancestors and dead myths brings general hatred of the living for each other.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“When I see some trying strenuously to make scientific models from the dead for the living, my entire being crumbles.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Wretched is the land whose myths are dead.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Homeland

“Ask the traveler the value of the motherland.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Learning better ways of living from other lands is not unworthy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The future belongs to cities and countries that introduce their living ests to everyone.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In a land where lightning and storm prevail, no one thinks about tomorrow.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Ancient fortifications tell us: build more beautiful and greater than us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Homeland: It belongs to all the people of a country, of every color, race, and language...”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“We must have a perspective beyond history.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worst kind of laughter is laughing at the poisonous jokes of race and language.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Jokes that are made and spread against various languages and lineages lead to social disintegration.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Patriots are polite and developers, not killers...”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“True patriots are those who sacrifice and strive for its development and freedom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 12 - The Worthy

“The worthy truly believe in themselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worthy seek transformation and resurrection.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worthy have a hand and lap for planting.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worthy are warm-giving; their speech and talk are the bright path for the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The possession of the worthy is only a heart full of hope.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Where is the cold, tall mountain chest that has not kept the footsteps of the worthy on itself as a memento?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Men and women of old do not stop for a single moment on the path to reaching their most valuable ideal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Even the palaces of the worthy have thousands of cradles of hope on their beds.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The price of greatness is loneliness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“No winter has the power to freeze the blood of self-sacrificing and honorable people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The most powerful people rule over hearts.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Self-sacrifice is only beautiful when it is for the suffering oppressed.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Becoming the same color as other people has never been the belief of any of the great.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A brave man does not count his companions during conflict and battle.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The great take thanks from the people of their time for eternal silence.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The greater you are, the lonelier you are.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“How sad and painful it is when a lion is forced to behave like a sheep.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worthy do not ruin their lives for worthless talk.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worthy will extract joy from the fiery bush full of tears.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In a tribe where there is no foundation, peace is found with difficulty.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worthy do not see their growth and prosperity in tarnishing the faces of others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fighting death and saving people is the art of firefighters.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Firefighters are truly the real soldiers of the people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Greatness is not achieved without love and friendship.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A capable person does not break even in the worst conditions.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Forgiving others is a sign of nobility and ability.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The great are boundless; they gift their superior nature to the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worthy sacrifice and risk their lives for the joy of the people and the development of their land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Forgiveness and Generosity

“It is forgiveness that turns a river into a sea.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Only by self-sacrifice for others can one become eternal.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“To reach a higher position, let us also learn forgiveness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The worthy are forgiving and generous.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who has no forgiveness and generosity within only has the name of human.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If humans knew what a great possession generosity is, they would never avoid it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Rain is the love of the sky, like loving and generous people who rain for the happiness and joy of all.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The most generous persons are those who plant the seed of hope in the hearts of the hopeless.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Search for the sweetest spring of life in generosity and self-sacrifice.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People always listen to the call of the generous.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The generous are the uncrowned rulers among the people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Fame

“Honorable is he who has an army of hearts surrounding him.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Good reputation is the greatest honor of a human.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“What causes the pride of a famous figure is their politeness, humanity, and nobility.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fame without intellect is cause for regret.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Fame without good reputation is not worth a penny.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People who tarnish the names of their famous figures and myths have made their children helpless.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The famous never answer the time of need.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A famous person who throws themselves into humiliation also drags thousands of hearts attached to their lap into the ground.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Work and Entrepreneurship

“An entrepreneur is a life-creator, so eternal creation upon him.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Hardworking and compassionate laborers are truly the proud of a land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A dreamer who is also an entrepreneur can be the source of many changes.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you want your land to be proud before the world, constantly reduce the problems of the laborer and entrepreneur.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Greedy lands see their leadership in the insecurity and filth of other lands.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A land that has no investment and entrepreneurship does not have the ability to maintain its achievements.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us consider entrepreneurship a true value, so that poverty disappears.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Which land has been freed from the trap of crime and hardship without entrepreneurship and work?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Laborers and entrepreneurs gift prosperity to the people of their land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Media tranquility, increase in public joys, and correct state norms and laws increase the capacity for investment and entrepreneurship.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Agitating media and tumult-creating groups drive away entrepreneurs and investors.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the midst of clamor and tumult, no one thinks about entrepreneurship and work.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Money and capital have no place in an unpeaceful land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Correct and compassionate work is part of the nature of the good.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 13 - Structure and Norm

“Order comes from a correct structure.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A structure that is not compatible with human nature does not have the power to endure.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The strongest structures are the softest ones; hard and rigid structures collapse very quickly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If laws and norms have a compassionate and human nature, undoubtedly law-breaking and disobedience will disappear.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Until you lose something, you will not gain something else; this is a constant norm and law.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Even the hardest questions have a simple basis.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The norm and law of the human psyche are friendship and love.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If we open the heart of the cosmos, we will hear this word: Every attraction has a reaction.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Doors that do not open with a thousand court orders open with one look and call from a grey-bearded elder.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Having a plan and order is a characteristic of efficient people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Order

“Order is the most important feature of the vast cosmic system.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Order makes simple words a lasting anthem and various notes a pleasant and melodic tune.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Order must be evident in all our life affairs.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orderly people have a developed, joyful, and beautiful land.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A disorderly person also has a short life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People who have no order fall into chaos, insecurity, and corruption.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“We must teach order to our children from the beginning.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Critique and Judgment

“Criticism of our work by others without malice is a gift whose value must be known.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“To prevent ruin and straying, let us keep the path of critique and evaluation open.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A critic who is impolite wastes their own efforts and achievements.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Your critique of others' work can be the starting point of your first step towards construction and creation.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A wise critic does not have a black or white view; they simultaneously see the correctness and incorrectness of every work.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Self-praise is the biggest trap for those who critique and review others' work.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Criticizing others does not mean researching them.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who finds fault and does not show the correct way is nothing but a fault-finder.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not become angry and upset by others' criticism.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not judge others quickly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Truly, if we look carefully, most people's judgments of each other are the product of ignorance and lack of knowledge.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Speech without evidence is exaggeration.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Politicians

“A far-sighted politician seeks more than anything to know and understand public opinion correctly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A country that has a fearless politician makes all its people brave.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People who leave their good politicians alone against the assault of foreigners deserve slavery.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If the water-giver gives enough, the whole plain will be green.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The field of work and decisions of politicians must be transparent and clear for the people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Correct literature is the first sign of a good politician.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One cannot make a great politician from a small person.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Statesmen must always seek to select the best elites of their land to manage affairs.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Speaking of stable friendship and enmity in politics is laughable.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A compassionate politician has guardians for the number of people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A worthy politician never forgets the people of their land anywhere in the world and is always their supporter.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A politician must always have the pulse of future events in hand and predict them.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Politicians must always seek more solidarity with the benevolent forces of a society.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A bureaucrat must have a calm interior and a joyful heart so as not to make people anxious.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Bureaucrats must always have the ability to protect their people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A weak bureaucrat associates with ignorant flatterers.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A weak politician is a waster of forces.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For a good politician, people are not an opportunity; the goal is striving to achieve their welfare as soon as possible.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Unfortunately, politicians most times answer the praises they like.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Experienced politicians drink from the same spring that quenches the people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People are not after the daily report of bureaucrats; they want change and improvement in their lives.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Supervisors should quickly dismiss disreputable and scandalous employees.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A good bureaucrat has no puppets.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A politician who only thinks of advancement always creates enemies for themselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People-management is the best trait of a politician.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“An advisory bureaucrat is not worthy of leadership; only those who work are fitting.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Bureaucrats should know that no voice is silenced by speaking.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A worthy bureaucrat is not thinking of spite towards their people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A bureaucrat who cannot prevent the oppression of profiteers is not worthy of sitting on the seat of power.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us keep quick-tempered and angry people away from the political apparatus.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“And a politician who lied buried their splendor and glory.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Guarding the possessions of a country is a constant norm for bureaucrats.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“People should never give deceitful and lying politicians the field to be present in the arena of political activities.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Bureaucrats should know that employing inefficient acquaintances and ignorant people in important positions will have a bitter and disastrous outcome.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A supervisor must be a symbol of efficiency and capability.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A talkative supervisor is not worthy of leadership.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The most important task of a supervisor is to perform the job they have undertaken correctly.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A capable politician and bureaucrat set aside their enemy from power but do not hang them.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us know undoubtedly that power is not eternal; no one has it forever.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“What will make power beautiful is self-sacrifice and the will to help others.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A progressive politician has intelligent advisors.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“An advisor who has many friends is not a good support for politicians.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 14 - Nature

“From nature, one can learn hope and passion for life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Our natural habitat is truly a mirror of our culture.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“All of us humans are responsible towards nature.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Nature itself is generative, generative of what it needs.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“From villages to cities, everywhere, there is a need for the existence of non-governmental environmental protection organizations.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us make our children friends and companions with nature.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Striving to have clean air is one of the most important duties of today's human.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Friends of the cosmos plant trees and are guardians of animals.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The small and open hands of the children are the future of every land and must be protected.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A troubled psyche, by living in green nature, will begin its growth again.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In the mountains, the value of the loving hands of humans can truly be understood.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“There is no escape from the return of our actions; what we have unleashed on our ecosystem will very soon catch up with us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Why do we seek pristine and untouched habitats? The answer is simple: because we do not want to see the destructive hand of our own kind.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A country's wealth is not only in banks; plant and animal species are much more valuable assets.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Many floods, storms, and natural disasters have occurred and occur because of our unkindness to nature.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Destroyers of nature shorten everyone's life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Truly, hunting animals should be forgotten.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us shorten the hands of criminals from the lap of animal habitats.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“How sad and tearful, nature is breathing its last breaths; humans have thrown it into this abyss.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One of the most important questions is; how will the world save itself from the trap of greedy and destructive humans?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About the Earth

“The earth is alive and dynamic; it must be protected.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Orodism Philosophy believes that the earth is the eternal possession of all its creatures.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Transformation is the dance of the earth, for dynamism and life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The earth gifts us thousands of beautiful flowers every day, but few see the earth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The effort to save the earth requires the greatest global solidarity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The earth is not only a gift for us; let us love it and bequeath it to the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The earth is very small; it must be saved from the storm of greed.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The earth tells us: I will be the cradle of your existence if you are my friends.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The earth is the growing place of flowers; it is we who force the shirt of pollution onto its body.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The earth, like a mirror, can be the feedback of our behaviors and actions.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The increasing heat of the earth truly shows the fire of human ignorance and selfishness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humans are the greatest enemies and pests of the earth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About the Value of Water

“Another name for water is life. No word can be found to express the degree of water's value.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Water kindly gives its existence to us, and we remain alive and gain strength; the question is: what do we do with it now?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who are unkind to water and waste it have forgotten their human duty.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Unfortunately, humans always forget the value of their most important possessions, and water is among the best of the forgotten.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“What have we humans done with the beautiful springs? How have we behaved with our underground waters?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

Chapter 15 - Life

“Life begins with being and continues until becoming.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Birth and progression in everything is the excuse for life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you are trapped in your daily life, you cannot take a step towards well-being.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Extinguish the fire of anger with the water of silence.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Sometimes one can speak only with silence.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The biggest pitfall in the life of a greedy person is accepting a job that is not in their nature.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Our biggest losses in life are the closest to us.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A beautiful person who knows that beauty is not lasting is worship-worthy.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A good person never tramples human values for money.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not be a slave to the heart's words; victors have heard the call of wisdom and reason before any melody.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Be simple; the deer of the plain of life die very quickly with deceit.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Life is not a field for continuing the wrong path; whenever we realize the falsehood of our path, we must immediately return to the source of our own soul.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A good life is not only in our joy and happiness; coexistence and love for other humans complete it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Hopelessness and depression are the only dead ends of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us also look well at these questions?! How are those colors and clothes? If they are alive or dead?”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who is not self-sacrificing for himself and his destiny can do any horrifying thing.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Darkness in life is not permanent and eternal, just like light.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Worldly elders have seen again and again the decline of the lives of humans whose root of money is impure.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Polluted streams will reach the swamp, and speaking of them ruins our life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Plants are the best and purest food chain for humans.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Enlightened people are not trapped in the fashion and color of the day.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Beauty is good, but extravagance is far from wisdom.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Elegant clothes fill the eyes of superficial people but do not bring wisdom and perfection.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Being chic is good, but more elegant than that is being polite.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Extravagance is from frivolity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Wisdom is seen in our correct consumption.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humans who are always in luxury, tranquility, and wealth are the most vulnerable humans.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If tranquility is constant, it leads to lethargy and filth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Time teaches us that many musts and must-nots have been laughable.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The speech and actions of the people around us inevitably influence our thought.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who constantly interrupts your speech is not content with hearing your words.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“They say reaching tranquility is an ideal; it should be said that tranquility is like the throne on the peak of the mountain.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He whose tongue runs ahead of his thought must always be looking for new friends.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A person with a bad mood makes life tight even for friends.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If you are not infatuated with your work, your psyche becomes sick, and in the end, your body will collapse.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Cheerfulness is like gold, a valuable possession.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Going among people with a sour face is only for the sick.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“What has happened must be accepted, but what has not happened can be built according to our will.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If we consider life to be in flexibility and flow, we will never break.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“With extravagance, not only money is lost; time's value is higher, and it is also destroyed.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Questioning is a good characteristic of childhood that should be kept until the end of life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not stand behind any closed door hoping it will open one day.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The key to great secrets is not in great depth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Distance yourself from spite, for it burns the harvest of love and purity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A self-made person does not become a plaything of winds blowing in every direction.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Greed is harmful to our possessions.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Decide late, but once decided, do not abandon it for little hardship.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“What you will obtain will not be beyond the work you have done.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“So many careless people who wink at their own hunters.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“If the destructive force of human greed and avarice is not controlled, they will set fire to their own existence and the world around them.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humans trapped in avarice and greed never feel happiness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us fade the memory of horrifying events with travel.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Travel is the melody of the soul, for the thought and great ideal of tomorrow.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us know that others' trust in us is one of the most valuable possessions.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A torn thread of trust cannot be knotted together even with a thousand apologies.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Good neighbors, in many times, are our best supporters and a source of security and tranquility.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Let us not snoop into the private life of neighbors.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“I have seen so many envious people who considered themselves free of it.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Envy has made even the most beautiful humans hated and isolated.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Sport is energy for well-being, not a cup of thanks for nothingness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Many championship sports are not accompanied by wisdom and thought.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Only those are worthy who do not make a mistake twice.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“A capable person, instead of showing the incapability of others, shows the correct path of capability.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“With our crying, the incapable do not become capable; one must strive and become capable, then help.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who cannot reduce his sleep for learning knowledge and awareness has no value of superiority and greatness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Humans are not one with each other; women and men each think in their own way.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not pin your hopes on your dreams; life belongs to the alert and awake.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“He who fights truth, fights himself.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Supporting the social rights of others is supporting our own rights.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“For high jumps, sometimes we need to take a few steps back.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Wretched is he who cannot correct his own falsehood.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The only one who causes our permanent humiliation is ourselves.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Only fighting falsehoods gives us value.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Many conflicts are for the sickly and cries of childhood.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“We rose from the ashes of the burned.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Ancestors

“Ancestors have started us, and if we look carefully, many of our actions have been and are in continuation of their reactions.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Undoubtedly, we can be the best among our ancestors and predecessors.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Our connection is not only with the living; all of us have an eternal connection with ancestors and the future.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Those who do not see the continuous chain of humans with their ancestors or easily pass by it are raw and inexperienced.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Luck and Destiny

“The bird of fortune will not perch on your shoulder unless you have a shoulder as wide and broad as a mountain.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The hand of destiny sometimes comes to us so suddenly and horrifically that it does not fit in our mind.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not seek an immediate answer to the important events of your life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“In every destiny, an important secret is hidden.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Our interior should not be a field of war and conflict; let us be calm.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Never be hurt by your truth and honesty, for at the end of every event, victory is yours.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not be sad, because happiness can be born from within the bitterest days of your life.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

About Happiness

“Happy is he who is not ashamed before his inner self.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“The wise is happy because he knows that happiness lies in truth and purity.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“One of the greatest happinesses is working more for the people.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Happiness in the land of the ungrateful is a myth.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Many bitter events of life are the messengers of happiness.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

“Do not search for happiness in the house of grief-worshippers.”
_ The Philosopher Orod Bozorg

End